

Dorkington Trifle

(or, "A Trip to Dorkington")

Choreography Session at An English Trifle weekend
Timber Ridge Camp, May 2017

Three Couple Longways Set

To the tune, Maid of the Oaks [source: 1788 pamphlet]

Video: https://youtu.be/AS\_pUI3xwIk (private link: please do not share)

A1 Women dance a hey for 3 (1st woman and 2nd woman pass right shoulders to begin) WHILE men orbit/chase clockwise around the women's line (Cf. Physical Snob).

A2 Men dance a hey for 3 (1st man and 2nd man pass right shoulders to begin) WHILE women orbit/chase counter-clockwise around the men's line.

B1 {Top two men face each other. Top two women face each other. 3rd couple face partner.} Give right hand to this person, then left hand (Cf. Jamaica). With these hands, turn halfway. Face away from this person and dance 3 changes (R-L-R, with hands) around the set. All now improper and progressed (order: 312)

Notes: The tune has a playful, "dorky" feel, and we reflected that in the dance movements (particularly in the B music). We originally tried to devise a 6 couple dance, with interesting progression and interactions between two adjacent 3 couple sets. In a single brief session, we lacked time to realize that ambitious vision -- but we think this dance stands on its own merits. Feel free to tweak and experiment with 6 couple variations if that suits your fancy !
